FUNDRAISING

- ♦ Tell everyone - your family, friends and colleagues - you are competing in The Battle for Hope in aid of Tikva via conversations, email, social media and share the link to your fundraising page.
- ♦ Post regular updates on social media highlighting your training progress and milestones achieved.
- ♦ Include lots of photographs and videos. People are more likely to sponsor you if they understand your commitment and feel part of your journey. They will want you to help you reach your goals.
- ♦ Don't forget to tag Tikva on social media @tikvauk
- ♦ Find out if your employer will offer match funding – it's a great way to double your total and for companies to give back to charity.
- ♦ Circulate the bout sponsorship information to corporate contacts in your networks
- ♦ Encourage friends, family and colleagues to attend on the night – having support in the room will boost your self-confidence and make all the hard work in training worth it.

Your main contact is Samantha Landesberg:
